PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm a Junior Web Developer who loves the challenge of solving complex problems with code, and a strong passion for building clean and accessible web applications.

I hope to make an impact using previous experience in HR field for over 5 years. This experience taught me how to communicate with different types of people and build positive relationships. Additionally, I was able to develop skills that allowed me to motivate and inspire others to achieve goals and express their opinions.

I'm very excited to start my new chapter within Web Development and welcome opportunities that will allow me to further develop my career.
